

Scatter plot E50 displays a large, dense cluster of blue points. A red box highlights a sub-region within this cluster. Additionally, a diagonal sequence of smaller red boxes is visible, starting from the top-left and extending towards the bottom-right, likely indicating a sequence of operations or a specific path through the data.